THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT DISTRICT OF UTAH

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

Plaintiff,

MEMORANDUM DECISION AND ORDER DENYING MOTION FOR EARLY TERMINATION OF SUPERVISION

v.

TRAVIS DELOY PETERSON,

Defendant.

Case No. 4:24-cr-00031

District Judge David Nuffer

Defendant Travis Peterson ("Peterson") filed a pro se Request for Early Termination of Probation (hereinafter referred to as the "Motion"). The United States of America ("USA") has objected to an early termination of supervision. Peterson was originally sentenced to a term of imprisonment of forty-one (41) months, followed by a term of supervised release of five years. He has completed nearly fifteen (15) months of supervision, and now seeks early termination of this supervised release. For the reasons stated herein, the Motion is DENIED.

Peterson's mail fraud conviction offense, as described in the Presentence Investigation Report,⁵ was a complex, artfully designed, long-term scheme using many tools of deception, affecting many victims. The probation office verifies that Peterson is technically eligible for early termination of supervision under 18 U.S.C. § 3583(e)(1).⁶ This is an excellent position for Peterson to be in. But he is, however, not ready for termination of supervision A principal purpose of supervision is to ensure the defendant is re-integrated into legitimate social participation. This can only be assured with the passage of time. Significant time is required to ensure that his current law-abiding and productive lifestyle is sustanined.

Further time is needed to ensure the defendant has accomplished the goals of supervision. Therefore, the Motion is DENIED.⁷
